Meeting Review

Ross Pollock presented at the meeting held on 10 March 2021 - his topic was Street Photography. Ross started the presentation with his favourite Somerset Maugham quote

"It's what you learn, after you know it all, that really counts."

Tips on photographing "on the street" included using

- a compact wide-angle lens (In Ross' case Olympus micro four thirds 17mm f1.8 lens)
- use silent mode
- shoot in RAW
- generally f5.6
- ISO 200-400 (depending on the weather)
- aim for shutter speed 1/400sec
- manual focus
- use hyper-focal distance 9ft. (for 17mm lens everything from 3ft to infinity is sharp)
- if possible, set in camera mode to monochrome
- use auto focus if doing street portraiture
- shoot with your camera around hip/waist height
- if you see an interesting character ask if you can take their photo (get their email address and send them a copy of the image)

The members were most appreciative seeing Ross' own street photography images along with a mini tale or two of each experience in taking the image.

AHPC extends a big thank you to Ross for his informative and entertaining presentation.
