Meeting Review

In what was an interesting departure from having a guest speaker, Glynn Stringer co-ordinated the evening with two very well chosen YouTubes on the topic of Landscape Photography. It has to be said that there are YouTubes and then there are YouTubes - Glynn chose extremely well. Both were excellent in their information and the clarity of presentation. The YouTubes are:

- "The Best Settings for Landscape Photography" by Mark Denney can be viewed at <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=U3SdhlydFxM>. and
- "A Landscape Photography Tutorial" by Thomas Heaton can be viewed at <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=k7WLO2EhEUU>

Members may be interested in looking at the apps that Glynn showed that may help with weather conditions, cloud cover, sunrise, sunset, moon phases/times:

- SkippySky <https://www.skippysky.com.au/Australia>
- PhotoPills <https://www.photopills.com/>
- The Photographer's Ephemeris <https://photoephemeris.com/en>

Both PhotoPills and The Photographer's Ephemeris are available as a downloadable app from the Apple Store or Google Play.

Many thanks to Glynn for a great idea that was informative and also generated good discussion amongst those present.
